Superintendent Minister: Rev Dr Iain Ballard

Dear Friends,

‘Do you have a desire to know Jesus more intimately, love Jesus more fully and follow Jesus more wholeheartedly?’ (Discovering the Spiritual Exercises of Saint Ignatius by Larry Warner)

My world is noisy at the best of times. I’m noisy and loud and my small humans are, well, typical small humans, bundles of energy, loud, fun, wonderful. Life in our house is always non-stop, there’s always a story, or a mini drama about how one of them getting stuck in the toilet at school and having to climb out the window. Football training, swimming lessons, homework, playdates...I’m one of those mothers who goes to work for a rest and the joys of ministry are often anything but restful.

As I sit here, recently back from sabbatical, I want to say something about the gift of sabbatical. But in particular, the gift of silence. We started my sabbatical with positive PCR tests, and whilst I wasn’t really poorly, neither was I well. On the day our isolation ended, my 7-year-old woke me up at 6am full dressed ready to go out for the day. We were determined to not waste the rest of the summer.

And so, September came and I craved quiet and rest. My body, mind and soul couldn’t do anymore.

I booked a week at St Beuno’s in North Wales, and in the next few days I will be vlogging about my experience as an extrovert there and following the Spiritual Exercises of Saint Ignatius.

There were so many ways that I found God speaking, when I finally allowed him space to speak and me time to listen. One of the things that God showed me were the most amazing sunsets, that with the space of nothing else to do and no chitchat or demands, I was able to stop, pause and watch the glory of God displayed in the sky.

We were encouraged to start each prayer with thankfulness, and to ask God for the desires of your heart.

I’m currently back in the thick of the business again. But I don’t want to be so busy that I don’t have moments to stop, pause and recognise the ever-loving presence of God. Life is busy and complicated and loud for many of us.

As we enter into this new week, may you take time to pause to be still; to breathe slowly; and to re-centre your scattered senses upon the presence of God. Amen.
